Research for a Future without Diabetes

---

The German Center for Diabetes Research (DZD) is a national network comprised of experts in the field of diabetes research that connects basic research, translational research and clinical applications.

- Helmholtz Zentrum München
- German Diabetes Center in Düsseldorf
- German Institute of Human Nutrition in Potsdam-Rehbrücke
- University of Dresden
- University of Tübingen

The goal of the DZD is to find answers to unsolved questions in diabetes research via an innovative, integrative research approach and to make a major contribution to improving the prevention, diagnosis, and therapy of diabetes mellitus.

DZD Diabetes Research School

November 5–6, 2013

The DZD is inviting 50 young scientists to join the 1st DZD Diabetes Research School designed to increase their knowledge in key topics in the field of diabetes. They have the opportunity to discuss current questions of diabetes research with renowned experts.

- Domenico Accili, USA
The new biology of diabetes
- C. Ronald Kahn, USA
Insulin resistance at the center of metabolic syndrome
- Masato Kasuga, Japan
Diabetes research – past, present and future
- Emmanuel Van Obberghen, France
Micro RNAs as new player in diabetes and its epigenomics
- Morris White, USA
Insulin action before the internet – and what we do now?

The invited young scientists participate at the following IR2013 Symposium and can present their own results.
